THIS IS A FREE PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT CERTIFICATE PROGRAM HOSTED BY THE OUR FOOD PROJECT OF THE ECOLOGY ACTION CENTRE

The Our Food Project of the Ecology Action Centre has been working with partners to build what we call 'positive food environments' – the physical and social spaces that make it easier to grow, sell, and eat good food. We are eager to share the knowledge, tools, and approaches that we learned over the years through the Community Food Leader Certificate Program – to enable communities to keep the food movement growing in their area.

Community Food Leader Certificate Program

The Community Food Leader Certificate Program is intended for community-based organizations that work at a local level to directly impact the lives of individuals experiencing food insecurity. Over seven months, The Our Food Project will support leadership development and collaboration among organization and community leaders who want to implement or expand food initiatives in their communities. Food initiatives include an array of activities that help to shape local food systems such as: community gardens, cooking skills programs, local food markets, and more. Graduates will become part of a regional network of food leaders, working to build food literacy, leadership skills, and food initiatives that improve food security in their community.

Over the past four years the Our Food Project has supported food initiatives in communities across Nova Scotia, through:

- 500 food skills workshops
- The launch and expansion of 30 infrastructure projects (community gardens, seed libraries, greenhouses)
- Implementation of market-based projects with partners (Mobile Food Market and cost-share CSA)
- Leadership and capacity development with organizations and community leaders
- Influencing policy change at the organizational, municipal and provincial levels

The Community Food Leader Certificate Program is for community-based organizations. We offer:

Monthly training sessions in your region

Coaching to help you reach food project goals

Connection to a community of practice and resources

To get the most out of this program, the Community Food Leader Certificate Program is for individuals who can attend monthly trainings and work on their own food projects in between. The amount of time to dedicate between trainings will be informed by specific organizational food goals.

Graduates will receive a Community Food Leader Certificate.

PROGRAM ELEMENTS

- 1 MONTHLY TRAINING SESSIONS: There will be one half or full day training each month in participating regions. Trainings will focus on key concepts that support meaningful and sustainable community food initiatives, while connecting with others in your region. A detailed curriculum will be made available at the start of the program.

PROGRAM TOPICS INCLUDE:

Food Systems

How does food connect in our lives & work?

Facilitation

What approaches can we use when working with groups?

Evaluation

How can we measure success?

Fundraising

How do we fund our work?

Communication

How can we talk about, and engage people in, our initiatives?

Civic Engagement

How can we engage communities and partners for positive change?

Food skills training

Informed by regional needs (e.g., gardening, cooking, food preservation)

- 2 FOOD PROJECT COACHING: We'll connect with each organization between trainings to help them reach their project milestones.

- 3 NETWORKING: As a Community Food Leader participant, you'll be connected to leaders across the region through webinars, newsletters, and other avenues where regional and provincial highlights will be shared. You'll continue to be connected with and have access to resources beyond the program duration.

Applications Due: July 14th, 2017
